I.1. Module 1:
The Latiolais Leadership Program was established to recognize the accomplishments of former Professor and Director of Pharmacy, Clifton J. Latiolais. The Program’s mission is to assist health-system pharmacists in developing skills to lead and manage the medication use process to achieve optimal health outcomes. The Program’s goals include using the leading pharmacy experts from the Ohio State alumni and others to provide innovative and easily accessible leadership and management programs that address contemporary issues and provide effective strategies for improvement, and redesign for the medication use process. The Latiolais Leadership Program promotes Dr. Latiolais’ philosophy for “Enthusiasm for Excellence” through... advocacy, mentoring, guidance, and support of pharmacy leaders. This program offers complementary auxiliary support for emerging pharmacy leaders especially those following the OSU Combined MS/Residency in Health-System Pharmacy Administration path.

II. 2. Clifton J. Latiolais Legacy

Clifton J. Latiolais received his Pharmacy, Bachelor’s degree in 1952 from Loyola University in New Orleans, LA. He then earned his Master’s degree in hospital pharmacy from the Pharmacy School of University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, MI and completed his hospital pharmacy residency here as well. Before joining the then, The Ohio State University Hospitals, he held the chief pharmacist position at the University of Rochester Strong Memorial Hospital and served as assistant director of ASHP/APhA Audit of Pharmaceutical Services in Hospitals.

Dr. Latiolais began this career at The Ohio State University in 1958 and retired in 1983 after bringing international distinction to The Ohio State University Hospitals and the College of Pharmacy. During his tenure he mentored 129 outstanding leaders in hospital pharmacy and pharmacy education who continue to have an enormous impact on the institutional practice of pharmacy. Many of these and subsequent graduates hold prominent positions in the profession.

In a manner of speaking, Clif Latiolais was at the pinnacle of hospital pharmacy for 30 years. Back in 1958 when Dr. Latiolais first became Director of Pharmacy at The Ohio State University hospitals, many hospitals were using floor stock distribution models. In his time as Ohio State, Dr. Latiolais redesigned the drug distribution system by developing a patient-specific 5-day supply system, which replaced the floor stock system. Another hospital pharmacy breakthrough occurred in 1965 when Dr. Latiolais developed the first IV Admixture Program in a teaching hospital. Dr. Latiolais revitalized the Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee and implemented Nuclear Pharmacy and Drug Information Services, among many others.

In addition to radically redesigning hospital pharmacy, Clif Latiolais established a graduate and residency program at Ohio State in 1959, which has produced directors of pharmacy at many of the top teaching hospitals in the nation. As of 2009, this Pharmacy MS program has developed 9 ASHP presidents, 6 Harvey A.K. Whitney Award recipients, 3 APhA presidents, and several have served as ACCP, AACP, and ACPE presidents.

II.3. The Latiolais Leadership Award

In 1985, some 25 years after Clif Latiolais began training graduate students and residents at The Ohio State University, these former students bestowed an honor on Latiolais by dedicating the Latiolais Award to recognize excellence for contributions made to hospital pharmacy. The Latiolais Award is presented annually at the MS/Alumni Luncheon held each year at the Midyear Clinical Meeting for the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists, and has been presented to only the nation’s finest leaders in health system pharmacy practice.

Latiolais Award Philosophy

The Clifton J. Latiolais Award will be given to an individual of high personal and professional ideals, who has made significant contributions to institutional pharmacy practice. These contributions may include achievements or outstanding performance in institutional pharmacy practice, education, administration and/or research. The individual will have demonstrated throughout his/her career the philosophical perspectives, personal commitment and enthusiasm for excellence which Dr. Latiolais sought to develop in his residents.

Eligibility
All graduates of programs participating in the Residency in Hospital Pharmacy/Master of Science program at the Ohio State University or individuals intimately involved with the development of these programs are eligible for this award.

Nominations

Any member of the eligible pool of candidates may make nominations. Nominations should be submitted to the immediate past recipient who serves as chair of the Selection Committee. Consent will be obtained from all nominees.

Selection Committee

For the first five years of the award, an appointed committee made award selections. Each award winner will automatically be added to the Selection Committee. The chairman of the committee will be the most recent recipient of the award. At the end of the first five years, the appointed members were dropped from the committee and the committee is now composed entirely of former awardees.

Responsibilities

The Latiolais Award winner is expected to attend the ASHP Midyear Clinical Meeting in the year the award is bestowed. The awardee will be expected to receive the award at The Ohio State University Residency Luncheon held at that meeting and present a 15-20 minute address to that group on a topic of his/her choice pertaining to pharmacy practice.

II.6. Latiolais Leadership Program Leadership Webinars

The mission of the Latiolais Leadership Program is to assist health-system pharmacists in developing skills to lead and manage the medication use process to achieve optimal health outcomes.
The Latiolais Leadership Program will be establishing webinar series focusing on pharmacy practice leadership. The Latiolais Leadership Program is fortunate enough to have the expertise of today’s notable pharmacy leaders. Many of these leaders were mentored directly by Clif J. Latiolais himself. Their webinars will focus on pharmacy leadership inspired by Latiolais’ leadership legacy.

Stay tuned!

II.7. Leadership Toolbox

The Latiolais Leadership Program advocates for the development of pharmacy leaders and the links below are resources to help you on your journey.

Our Combined MS/Residency in Health System Pharmacy alumni are exhibiting pharmacy leadership all over the country. Given annually to individuals who have made outstanding contributions to health-system pharmacy, the Harvey A.K. Whitney Lecture Award is the health-system pharmacy’s highest honor. Many of our alumni have received this honor and links to their acceptance remarks are below. Here are some recent publications and presentations by our alumni.
